lowing remarks:

Yes, this couple extorted some money out of this guy in California - they came into town Friday morning and didn't contact any of us. I saw them at breakfast at the Hot Springs Confectionery around 7:30 in the morning - I personally know some of them, but none of them said anything to me. I figured they were up to something - that's the way those guys operate.

You know, I had a clash with Hoover on that. Karpis said that those fellows made last April - a whole bunch of them came into town and almost burned up Woodcock's place. I told them that I didn't like them sneaking into town like that without letting anyone know. Christ sake, we could have gone out there and tangled with them, and some of us or them might have been killed - that's what every police department in the country is bickering about - Look what they did in New York - they almost got a couple of five men killed - they shot this apartment full of lead and then threw in some tear gas and set the place on fire.

12/20/36

The New York police raised plenty hell about it - (at this point some one apparently

Grace - I saw you tonight.

Wakelin - Where?

Grace - You saw me too - While I was sitting out in the car by the Post Office talking to Dr. Blackshare.

Wakelin - You're a tripler - I swear I didn't see you. Guess I was hurrying home to get some flashlights - You know that child has been lost in the woods -

Grace - Aw?

Wakelin - Yeah, when I got here tonight after leaving you had to go out in the 12-21-36

Has-

country to see about that.

About 30 or 40 National Guards have just gone out there now.

Grace - I saw the soldiers downtown. They haven't found the baby yet?

Wakelin - No.

Grace - Here's Connie now. What do you want me to tell her for you?

Wakelin - Tell her I'll bring this hide down there and wrap it across her back -

Grace - Yeah, she needs it. So they haven't found that child yet?

Wakelin - No.

Grace - For Christ's sake.

Wakelin - The National Guard has been messing around here for three or four hours and just got away.

Grace - Well. I thought you saw me sitting in that car tonight.

Wakelin - You tripler.

Grace - Little skips don't count. I was just sitting there talkin. Wait a minute, honey.

Wakelin - (pause) all right.

Grace - I was just trying to coax Connie to go riding. Fresh air might do her good. You come get her and make her go.

Wakelin - Yeah -

Grace - I was just kidding. A little more tonight and she might have been one of your guests down there. Her eyes are all red and her hair looks like a picked chicken - where we washed her face.

(Cont.)

12-21-36

Hoe-

Wakelin - (laughed)

Grace - Are you going home now?

Wakelin - No, I guess I'll be here
a little bit longer.

Grace - Who was it that came up here after Connie. They were young.

Wakelin - I don't know. Might have been Rogers.

Grace - Just wondering. (pause) Well, we're up mighty late tonight.

Wakelin - Tolerable.

Grace - After I left you I came in and wrote some letters and fooled around.

Wakelin - Yeah, I came by here and all this mess about that kid was started.

Grace - Where is it lost?

Wakelin - About seven miles from town near the lake.

Grace - My goodness.

(cont.)

12-21-36.

Has-

Wakelin - Yeah. I went out there for a while. May go back

Grace - I'll go too, maybe? (laughed)

Wakelin - I'm not sleepy, are you?

Grace - Not tonight. Like I was last night

Wakelin - I was sleepy then too.
Couldn't hardly keep my eyes open. Well, if I was you I wouldn't stay up too late.

Grace - It's too late now. You may get sick if you go back out there. They've got enough help.

Wakelin - I suppose. There's about seventy-five out there now.

Grace - Good night!

Wakelin - Well, where's that snowball now?

Grace - She's here. Want to talk to her?

Wakelin - Put her on.

Connie - Hello.

Wakelin - What's the matter?

Connie - Nothing. Why?

Wakelin - Forget about your worries.
Wait until you've got some worries - like me -

Connie - Yeah?

Wakelin - You devil -

Connie - Yeah?

Wakelin - Forget about worrying. Let's see you do it. Wish I had some of what you've got -

Connie - Yeah? What?

Wakelin - Whiskey (laughter)

Connie - I just had a couple. G'bye

Grace - I don't think Connie's nice - drinking whiskey.

Wakelin - Now. Me either.

Grace - Well, you've been drinkin'

beer -

Wakelin - That's just a belly-wash.

Grace - Aw, behave. Connie's sure in the "dumps". Got the "blues".
She's gone down stairs now.
I told them to watch her.
She broke out a window,
and I bawled her out.
Everybody in town will know about it in the morning.

Wakelin - Can't you get that out of her system?

Grace - I don't know what got into her tonight. (pause)
Just sent the maid out to follow her. I don't care what she does up here so long as she stays inside up here - but all that breaking glass - outside.
That's bad!

(cont.)

12-21-36.

Has.

Wakelin - You'd better go watch her now.

Grace - I'm just letting her go. She'll get over her drunk.

Wakelin - Yeah. That's the best way.

Grace - Wait a minute. (pause).
I just asked Lillian if Dr. Boydstone went with her. I think he did. He'll straighten her out.

Wakelin - Was she hurt much?

Grace - Not much. I don't like all that outside stuff.

Wakelin - That is bad.

Grace - She's been homesick and afraid to go home.

Wakelin - Where is her home?

Grace - She's from Oklahoma. - Frederick - across from Wichita Falls.

Wakelin - Well, that won't help her any.

Grace - No, not if she goes out the window. Maybe Dr. Boydstone will fix her up.

Wakelin - He'll ride her around some.

Grace - Yeah, I guess she's gone with him. This really burns me up. I'll really raise hell with her tomorrow about that outside stuff, I mean. I wouldn't mind if it was inside the house, or if it was a back window that she tried to jump out - but this was the front window - right over the street. Well, I guess she'll be OK when she gets sober.

Wakelin - Yeah -

Grace - Hell, she's got enough to be thankful for.

Her health - and a good place to stay -

Wakelin - Yeah -

Grace - Well, I'll be at home
the rest of the night, I guess

Wakelin - Do I have to stay up all night to see?

Grace - Oh, I was just around at the Post Office mailing my Xmas cards. Dr. Black share's office is across the street from here and he comes over down-stairs to play the pin-ball machine a lot. We just talked politics tonight. He told me he helped elect Carl Bailey. Worked for him in this county -

(noise) What's that?

Wakelin - My chair squeaked -

Grace - Yeah?

12-21-36

Hoo.

Wakelin - That's my story - Get me a bottle of liquor. I need a drink!

Grace - I'm disgusted with it - after tonight

Wakelin - He ought to have seen us sometimes this summer

Grace - That was out.

Wakelin - Yeah, I was almost out.

Grace - I don't like to get drunk - makes you do things you wouldn't ordinarily do.

Wakelin - Yeah -

Grace - You know I wasn't home from the Post Office when all this happened tonight.
Seems like I always miss everything.

Wakelin - You're just an hour late and a dollar short.

Grace - I was gone for a good bit, I guess - (pause) Shine

Wakelin - You ought to train him to look after Connie.

Grace - Yeah, he could have held her down. (pans) Well, I got nearly three o'clock - Good God.

Wakelin - Well, I'm doing pretty good.

Grace - Me too. Be hard to go to sleep now.

Wakelin - Yeah - Me too. My eyes stay wide open at night from worrying. My window isn't high enough, though, to jump out.

Grace - You monkey.

Wakelin - Well, I guess you want to get away.

Grace - No. There's no one here now but one girl. One of them went over to 12-21-36

Hot.

the Majestic Hotel and hasn't come back yet. Hope she's all right. Connie makes me disgusted. something like this gets me all downhearted. I told her in the beginning that I'd raise hell if she did anything like that.

Wakelin - looks like she's got more sense -

Grace - yes - and at a front window too. Third floor -

Wakelin - Did somebody try to stop her?

Grace - The maid caught her.

Wakelin - Why'd she break the window?

Grace - just trying to get out of it. When I got home I saw all the glass on the street and wondered what the hell.

12-21-36

Hos.

Wakelin - Well, a lot of times that is just bluff. Sometimes they wouldn't try to commit suicide unless they know someone is there to stop them. I don't intend to try it though.

Grace - No. Me either. Not until next Tuesday.

Wakelin - Where is she now?

Grace - Guess she left. Got tired of listening to me.

Wakelin - Well, I just called to tell you about that lost kid.

Grace - I saw you turn into the driveway by the station while I was sitting out by the Post Office. I was listening to Dr. Blackshare talk about Carl Bailey. I wasn't missing.

nothing. He seemed to think that Bailey is going to raise some Hell over here when he gets in.

Wakelin - I look for it myself.

Grace - Doc must have been campaigning for Bailey pretty strong.

Wakelin - What part is he going to play in it?

Grace - Nothing, I guess. He was just telling me that Bailey would raise Hell here, and for the sake of argument I said he wouldn't. I don't guess he'll have anything to do with it, though.

Wakelin - Well, if Bailey don't start in and show his butt down here, we ought to have a pretty good season

12-21-36

Hes.

Grace - Maybe he wont. Lot of people say he wont.
Wakelin - Yeah - A fellow at the Southern Grill the other day said everything will be all right.

Grace - Jesus, I hope everything will be all right, so I can make a dollar ninety-eight this winter.

Wakelin - Yeah - Me too -

Grace - Well, this is the latest I've been up in a long time.

Wakelin - Me too - I may stay up all night, but I've got to be in court in the morning.

Grace - I've got an advantage over you - I can stay in bed as long as I want to.

12-21-36

Has.

Wakelin - was just studying whether I'd go out in the country again -

Grace - I saw all the National Guard.

Wakelin - They give me a pain -
The men from the Army-Navy Hospital went out in thirty minutes, but the National Guard under Capt. Mac took too long - He wasted two hours by making them dress again.
We waited on them a long time in the country - and they still hadn't left when we got to town -

Grace - good night! (pause) just stretching.

Wakelin - Well, it's about three o'clock now so I think I'll stir around some
